MUSIC NEWS

AS ready album (listen)

One of the things Muse have always done well is to draw on western classical music, and we perked up when we heard that Paris based duo A.S. also draw on those sounds, as well as pop, folk and a bit of indie. They've got an album called Exile coming out April 15th, and sample track 'Do What You Want' is spreading the word. They remind us of the greatly underrated Archive, albeit with much shorter songs, and won't convince anyone who likes fire and grit, but as a dreamy, affecting song it's a solid starter.
