

TWITTER: twitter.com/astheband
FACEBOOK: facebook.com/astheband

AS

BY ELIZABETH TOLBERT

Sounding like the stand-out artist from your favourite indie movie soundtrack, A.S. are guaranteed to make a big impression on listeners.

The duo from Paris, consisting of members Nick McRoberts and Idriss Halfaoui, have already managed to generate a large amount of support from their tours throughout France and the UK. Their live shows tell the story of their tunes in a completely different way.

Often compared to acts like Coldplay and Radiohead, their debut album 'Intimate Circles,' which was released in 2009, was highly praised by the media. The band's sophomore album 'Exile' is a more mature sequel to their debut, with A.S.

taking a more adventurous approach to their music. While the subject matter of 'Exile' is decidedly dark, the duo take that vibe and create a hauntingly beautiful record that won't disappoint.

A.S. will make their touring debut in the U.S. this summer and are definitely worth checking out.

